Wed 21 Feb	Animation On this short course you will learn the techniques required to create your own stop motion animations. Stop motion or stop frame animation is a technique that uses objects or models that are physically moved in small stages between individually photographed frames, creating the illusion of movement when the series of frames is played as a continuous sequence. Films such as the 'Wallace & Gromit' series and 'The Nightmare Before Christmas' use this animation technique. In exploring both image and clay based animation you will develop your basic technical and creative skills. The course may include any of the following based on the group's interests: basic drawing and art skills, storyboarding, 3D clay modelling, stop motion animation techniques, making an animation, voice overs and frame rates	£19 per young person	11am - 4pm	11 - 17 years
